

A modern kitchen scene featuring a coffee machine and pendant lights. The background consists of vertical wooden slats. Two large, dark, rounded pendant lights hang from the ceiling, each containing a glowing, stylized light bulb. In the foreground, a dark wooden tray holds a white teapot, several white cups, and a small bottle. To the right, a stainless steel espresso machine with a digital display and buttons is mounted on a dark countertop. Two white coffee cups are placed on the machine's drip tray. The machine is labeled 'FAEMINA' on its front. The entire setup is positioned against a wall with vertical wooden slats. A large window is visible on the right side of the frame, letting in natural light. The overall atmosphere is warm and contemporary.
